"Happiness is an Inside Job!"

At the age of thirty after both the collapse of her personal and professional life, Susan uprooted her life to start over again. A new environment and strong will allowed her to become a success in the corporate world with companies like American Express.

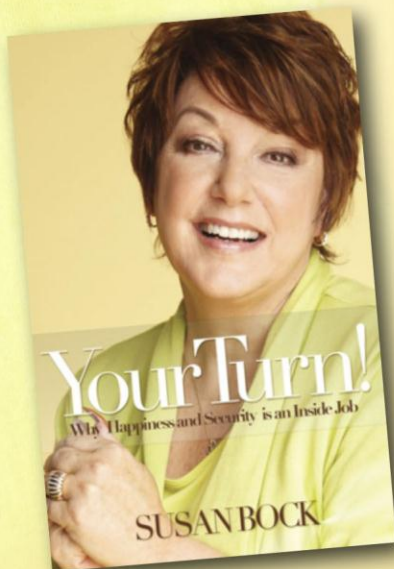

Success left her feeling empty – it was time to again challenge herself by asking new questions and the result was to abandon being a slave to the corporate world. She began her own venture both coaching and consulting other women facing personal and professional challenges.

As a professional speaker, Susan inspires audiences to become the CEO of their life - to uncover their potential and step into their power. She is masterful at delivering a message that can shift thinking and compel action. Her presentations have a common theme - inspiring, inquisitive and instructive. Audiences are invited to participate in activities that incorporate all aspects of adult learning to ensure they walk away with tools and techniques they can use immediately and will not forget!

Upcoming Books:

"Your Turn!" coming in 2012

"It's Time to Hire a New Committee" coming in 2013

The #1 hot topic that audiences are loving:

Mastering the Communication Mystery

In our personal and professional lives, we are bombarded with sales messages, pitches and opportunities to change our lives. We typically become skeptical, put up our guard to protect ourselves to what is about to be said.

- ✓ How can we master this mystery?
- ✓ Why are some decisions, conversations, business proposals, so effortless and others feel like climbing up a sheer cliff?
- ✓ What action can I take to more readily identify what is getting in the way?

In this presentation, you will learn the answers to these questions and how you can master the communication mystery.

Additionally, Susan is currently offering these attention-grabbing presentations:

Identifying the Enemy – Resistance

Resistance wears many cloaks - it is an elusive enemy. It is universal – we are totally wrong if we think we're the only ones struggling with resistance. Resistance comes into play when we attempt to move, shift, grow or expand into a higher plain, a higher level of consciousness. It kicks in when we move to improve and evolve such as changing our attitude, behaviors, beliefs and actions.

- ✓ Learn how you can take the power out of your resistance
- ✓ Discover activities to define 'the enemy'
- ✓ Practice techniques to begin living the un-lived life within us

Remember, we can change our lives this very moment.

Become the CEO of Your Life

You know what makes a successful CEO in business and a not-so-good CEO – the media gladly provides us with examples, stories and pictures! Let's turn that into knowledge you can apply and become the CEO of your life – step into the corner office and take charge of your future.

- ✓ Do you think of yourself as the CEO of your life?
- ✓ If not you, who is?
- ✓ What are the attributes of a successful CEO?
- ✓ How can you apply these attributes to your life?
